PLANE

(Participants should book tickets directly through an airline or travel agent.)

Arrival to (city, airport): New York City, NY (JFK)

Preferred Arrival Time: No Preference

Will participant be picked up from the airport? Yes ☐ No ☒

If so, by who? Not Applicable

How far from the airport is your place of business? 20 miles

Special instructions/comments regarding participant's arrival:

Participants should travel directly to their pre-arranged housing from the airport.

Participants must contact the employer with their travel plans before leaving their home country. This is very important, because the employer will need to know for orientation and work scheduling purposes. Participants should research the specific travel instructions before departing their home countries, in case WiFi is not available upon arrival to the USA. The employer is willing to help participants plan the route from the airport to the housing.

Participants can also fly into LaGuardia (LGA), however JFK is much more convenient.

Transport from JFK Airport - Participants can take the subway to Brooklyn for approximately $5. See following link for subway information.

https://www.nycsubway.org/wiki/New_York_City_Subway_Route_Map_by_SPU1

<https://goo.gl/maps/tVqvcws18iL2>

New York public transportation is operated by MTA.

Transport from LaGuardia Airport: Public transportation to the city center via bus is available for approximately $12 and can be purchased upon arrival or in advance.

<https://laguardiaairport.com/to-from-airport/public-transportation>

<https://goo.gl/maps/svCEcdmDENB2>

Participants can also take a taxi from either airport to their prearranged housing. Participants should expect a taxi ride to Brooklyn to cost between $40 and $65. Participants should ignore offers of transportation from solicitors in the terminal. Soliciting of ground transportation in the airport is illegal and many illegal solicitors are unlicensed and uninsured. Participants should head directly for the taxi stand located outside each terminal for safe and legitimate transportation and ignore non-uniformed people offering to assist with baggage. Participants should only seek out uniformed porters or airline employees for baggage assistance.

Prior to their arrival, participants will be emailed with the date and time of their orientation.

Start Dates and End Dates:

The employer is very busy from Memorial Day through Labor Day and any other days when it's sunny.

Although there will be fewer available hours in the spring, they will be consistent to prepare for the busy summer launching in May.

Employer is open to all start and end dates during the dates listed, however, due to onboarding requirements, in case of arrival delays: The employer must have participants arrive 7-10 days before Memorial Day or 4th of July Holiday.

The employer expects participants to stay and work through their listed DS-2019 End Dates.

Given the employer's commitment to provide schedules 2 weeks in advance, clear communication around scheduling is very important. Participants are strongly encouraged to bring all questions to managers BEFORE the schedule is distributed.

Participants must honor their contract and show up to work on their scheduled shifts. If a participant does not show up for a scheduled shift and does not call-in advance to say they cannot make it, their employment may be terminated.

The average number of hours per week listed in this agreement is based on normal business needs. Because this is seasonal work, hours may change during the program. The number shown is a weekly average for the full program, not a guaranteed number of hours each week.

Hours may sometimes be lower. This can happen due to personal reasons (such as schedule requests or illness) or outside factors like weather (very hot or cold temperatures, low snowfall, natural disasters), transportation issues, or changes in business needs. In these situations, the host organization will try to distribute available hours fairly based on role, performance, and availability.

Participants are expected to be available for a flexible work schedule. This may include evenings, weekends, and holidays. Schedules and shift lengths may change depending on business needs.

Participants are expected to work until the end date listed on the DS-2019 form. If a participant needs to leave early, at least two weeks' notice is encouraged (with university documentation if applicable). Leaving early may affect eligibility for certain benefits.

Participants must bring originals and copies of their visa, passport, DS-2019 form, and I-94 to the orientation.

The ideal participant has the ability to work hard in a not ideal environment. The busiest time is when it is sunny and hot. The work areas do not have air conditioning. Participants are also on their feet the entire time. Participants must have the ability to stay positive while working hard and serving customers.

Note RE: Union Positions:

For those positions that are union, participants will be required to pay the union fees through paycheck deduction but will receive the benefit of having the union to represent participants for any grievances.

- Participants will NOT need to pay the $75 union initiation fee
- Note that all employees, including Americans, are required to pay these dues after working with the employer for 2 months

For these dues: If participants average more than 20 hours a week but less than 30 hours, it is $10.95 per week. More than 30 hours is $11.05 per week.

Details will be provided at orientation. Participants are always encouraged to bring questions to their manager.

Comfort in an Urban Environment:

Participants must be comfortable living and working in a busy city setting.

Flexibility and Commuting:

Participants must be flexible, open to commuting by public transportation, and understand New York City's high cost of living.

In New York City, it is incredibly common to commute for 45 - 90 minutes between home and work. All participants are encourage to evaluate the distance to work before committing to their housing lease.

New York public transportation is operated by MTA. Subway and Local Bus Fare is $3.00 per ride.

Many more details can be found listed on the MTA website: <https://new.mta.info/agency/new-york-city-transit>

Housing Arrangements:

Participants are responsible for securing their own housing accommodations.

Leads listed in the "Housing" section are intended for short term stays while participants find their own apartments.

Participants should review the housing resources here for more information on housing offered by New York University:

<https://www.nyu.edu/students/student-information-and-resources/housing-and-dining.html/offcampus/resources/links>

Basic Math and U.S. Currency Familiarity:

Participants must have basic math skills and be familiar with U.S. currency before arriving.

No Guaranteed Assignment with Friends:

Participants may not be assigned the same department or schedule as friends; they must be prepared to work independently.

Working on Peak Days:

On special event days, such as holidays, concerts, parades, etc., participants will be scheduled to work shifts between 9 and 11 hours long. On any shift when participants work more than 9.5 hours, they will receive an additional $15.00 for the shift (one payment). In any week when participants work more than 40 hours, they will also receive time and a half per hour for those hours over 40.

The work week runs from Monday to Sunday and the schedule will be posted on Thursdays for the following week. Time-off requests must be in writing and handed in no later than the Wednesday prior to the schedule posting day (Thursday). Time off will be given if there are enough employees to work the participant's normal shift. Once the schedule is posted, no changes will be made. Participants who need to change a shift after the schedule has been posted are expected to find another employee to cover the shift on their own. Participants must honor their contract and show up to work for their scheduled shifts. If they do not show up for a scheduled shift and do not call in advance to say they cannot make it, their employment will be terminated.

When it rains, very few employees are needed to work and the restaurant will typically close early. Rather than showing up to work and be sent home early, participants can call the restaurant to see if they are required to work on that day. Also, if it starts raining during their shift, participants may be sent home early. They can make up the lost hours by working an extra day on their normal day off or by working a longer shift on sunny and warm days. They can also work additional hours by doing other jobs in the restaurant such as cooking, cleaning, and kitchen work. Participants will still work over 32 hours per week on average through the duration of their programs, as participants will frequently work more than 32 hours during the busy weeks.

The average number of hours per week listed in this agreement is based on normal business needs. Because this is seasonal work, hours may change during the program. The number shown is a weekly average for the full program, not a guaranteed number of hours each week.
